MAY CUT OUT "OBEY"

Important Changes in Episcopal Marriage Ritual Proposed.

Recognition of the Changed Status of Women May Bring Revision of Vows—May Omit Compulsory Giving in Marriage.

New York.—Recognition of the changed status of women by striking from the Episcopal marriage ceremony the promise to obey, and eliminating the compulsory giving in marriage, was proposed by the commission on revision of the Book of Common Prayer, in a report just made public. Granting equal rights with men in their marriage vows, however, the women would lose a special privilege now accorded them. For the proposal to change the ceremony also provides for striking out the bridegroom's pledge, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow."

The commission's report will be submitted to the triennial general convention of the church at Portland, Ore., next September. Under the constitution of the church, it cannot be adopted until it has been approved by two general conventions.

Six pages of the report are devoted to the proposed changes in the marriage ceremony, the first hint of the breadth of the revision appearing in the following:

"Make the promise of the man and of the woman identical in form: 'Wilt thou love him, comfort him, honor, and keep him in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him, so long as ye both shall live?'"

At present the woman promises to "obey" and "serve."

"The next change would make it possible for the clergyman to omit: 'Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?' And would provide for the singing of a hymn or anthem at this point."

The report continues: "Amend the sentence in regard to the ring by omitting the words 'and with all my worldly goods I thee endow.'" This change would make the ring pledge of the bridegroom read: "With this ring I thee wed: In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The present final report was expressly ordered published six months in advance of the Portland convention.

PARCEL POST USES INCREASE

Shipments of Fruit and Vegetables Are Steadily Growing, Says Post Office Official.

Washington.—Shipments of fruits and vegetables in great quantities by retail and wholesale merchants to all sections of the United States is steadily increasing, according to reports made to General Superintendent W. H. Riddell of the railway mail service.

As an illustration of the use to which the parcel post is being put by merchants, it was asserted by Superintendent Riddell that recently an entire freight car was loaded with individual cases of asparagus and shipped by parcel post rates. Each parcel, however, conformed to weight regulations, and it would not have been possible to ship the carload as a bulk, it was explained.

Department officials said that there appeared to be no reason why sufficient numbers of crates to make up a half car or a carload, cannot be shipped in the future as parcel post.

Timepieces Royal Hobby.

Louis XVI had a passion for timepieces, and it is said that he had no difficulty in adjusting his clocks and watches that he reflected on the "absurdity of his having attempted to bring men to anything like uniformity of belief in matters of faith when he could not make any two of his timepieces agree with each other." On one occasion his royal chef at his wife's end for variety in his dishes said: "I really do not know what to do, unless it be to serve up your majesty a fricassee of watches."

Easy.

"George, you should get married," advised the married man. "It is wonderful to have a home waiting for you when you return at night. There is ecstasy in curling for a garden and a lawn; you can raise a dog from a pup, children are adorable and no trouble at all, a wife is an inspiration, and even if she does get suspicious you can always talk her out of it." "I could if I could lie like you can," said the bachelor, thoughtfully.

Birds Guard Our Trees.

We can spray orchards and shade trees with poisonous insecticides, but we would stand aghast at the impossible task of spraying all the trees in all the woods, says the American Forestry Magazine. We must therefore depend on the natural enemies of insects to protect our forests. Fortunately, birds and other foes of insects, wherever their numbers are sufficient, act as effective forest guardians.

FURTHER ADVANCE

IN MARKET PRICES

Movement Uneven for Most Part, Speculative Shares Being Given Greater Prominence

New York, May 1.—Industrial and commercial advances published over the week-end recess, combined with the "bullish literature" issued by a majority of the commission houses, gave impetus to the further advance of stock market prices today.

The movement was uneven for the most part, however, seasoned shares again being relegated to comparative obscurity by the greater prominence of speculative issues. These mainly comprised leaders of the oil, motor, independent steel and copper groups.

Specific instances of unusual activity and strength included Associated and Pacific oils, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Studebaker, which threw off the disappointment shown at the failure of the directors to declare an extra dividend; Baldwin Locomotive International Paper preferred, and Lockhart, Gulf States and Republic Steels.

There were numerous additional gains of one to two points among specialties, shippings, chemicals and utilities, the latter embracing Montana Power, but rails, apart from the junior issues, were at all times backward. Sales amounted to 1,135,000 shares, making the 22nd consecutive full session in which transactions ran into seven figures.

Railroad tonnage for the preceding week showed a moderate decrease in the Middle West, but this was balanced by general business gains in that section as well as more remote points, notably southwestern territory.

The striking feature of the bond market was the decided diminution in the volume of operations, although transactions, mostly at higher levels, comprised many separate issues.

Constructive features included several of the local traction, especially Interborough Rapid Transit, 23 and 49s, and Third Avenue adjustments.

New Haven 4s of 1955 led the rails at a gain of over three points, but other underlying issues of that system moved cautiously. Advances of fractions to one point attended the demand for Mrs. Apollis and St. Louis refunding 5s and St. Paul, Kansas City Southern and Reading issues.

Chicago and Alton 3½s recovered part of their recent sharp decline.

Suffering From Indigestion. Helped
Her Children TooI am a very hearty eater and usually enjoy my meals. My husband says he likes to see me eat, and is willing to get anything the children and I want.
So writes Mrs. P. J. Kane of 14 Darrow Street, New London, Conn., wife of a popular railroad man of that city. Mrs.
Kane continues:But several months ago I became very billion. I suffered terribly from gas in the stomach. Laxative medicines gave me no relief, but made me sick and nervous.
I lost my appetite, or I guess I was afraid to eat, for the food hurt me so after each meal. I was in pain all the time; everything seemed to be going wrong.Then a friend suggested that I try "Sanalt the Sensitive Tonic," as she called it. In two days after commencing to take Sanalt, I was wonderfully changed for the better. It braced me right up and made all my organs act in a sane way. My stomach trouble soon passed away and by the time I had taken three bottles of Sanalt I could eat as heartily and enjoy my food as well as ever in my life."Since then I have given Sanalt to my boy and girl, with good results, and my husband has been cured of bad headache, that he has had ever since he was a boy."
The majority of druggists sell Sanalt.

AUTOCRATS OF NEW YORK

The death of Richard Croker, which occurred at his home, Glenmar Castle, in County Dublin, Ireland, on Saturday last, calls to mind the continuing tenure of power of four men who, with no actual official title pertaining, have as leaders of Tammany hall, been in effect, the autocrats of New York. There was, for example, William M. Tweed, in whose day the political of Tammany leadership alike for profit and political power began to develop. Earlier Tammany had been mostly a political organization for the purpose of promoting the interests of the Democratic party. The dishonesty of Tweed and the collapse of his power in 1872, brought John Kelly to the fore as leader in the metropolis. Kelly died in 1889, after fourteen years of absolute control, and was succeeded by Croker. For sixteen years the latter was the head of Tammany, which is another name for the "boss" of New York; but in 1902 he surrendered his control, making from that time his home principally in Ireland. His successor as the autocrat of New York is Charles F. Murphy, who despite opposition without and within his party, has to this day maintained control of Tammany hall and so of the city.

The four men altogether have for more than sixty years directed the political destinies of the great city with only brief intervals between in which other men of opposite faith have been allowed to hold sway. In fact, how ever, they did so but nominally, for a long period of years had so firmly entrenched the men of Tammany in places of power that though the mayor and his immediate official might be anti-Tammany, the rank and file in all departments were affiliated with that party within a party, and when opportunity presented, the city government at once in a night reverted to its former condition.

Evidently, no matter what the alleged form of government has been, there have been autocrats—absolute rulers—in New York for many years; and not one of them has ever been mayor. Whether the future has anything better in store will depend upon the spirit of the citizenship, desire to do whatever is best for the city and determination to root out all forms of evil government.

This is by no means a partisan matter. There is no doubt that certain classes of Democrats and Republicans alike who back up the New York government of which Murphy is now the autocrat and Hyman the visible figurehead as mayor.

The election last year demonstrated this fact when with practically all the reputable press of New York against it, and this all Democratic and Republican, Tammany hall was by a large majority a winner. When the time comes that the reputable men of either party or a coalition of men of both are able to elect a mayor, and for more than one term keep him in office, there will be an end to autocracy in New York.

Selects a Farm Name.

"Hill Foot" is the trade mark name that has been reserved exclusively for the use of Clarence P. Putnam, of Worcester, as a prefix in the regular registration name for all Holstein animals raised on the Putnam farm and registered with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, according to an official announcement recently made by Secretary F. L. Houghton, of Brattleboro, Vt.

All registered animals carry besides a registry number, a family name usually indicating the ancestral bloodline. As a means of identifying the various breeding establishments of the country trade mark names are reserved by the Association for the exclusive use of breeders. Thus, an animal can always be identified as to its original birth-place. Every Holstein man in the United States knows that a cow named Pabst Clover Blossom must come from the Pabst Stock farm of Oconomowoc, Wis. In a like manner animals carrying the prefix "Hill Foot" will in the future be recognized as coming from the Putnam herd of Worcester.

THE WEATHER FOR APRIL.

Rainfall, Temperature and General Climatic Conditions.

The mean maximum temperature in Oneonta during the month of April was 50 degrees plus, the mean minimum 33 degrees plus and the mean temperature nearly 42 degrees. The highest temperature was 78 degrees on the 11th and the lowest 20 degrees on the 3d. The greatest daily range, and in fact a remarkable range in any one day at any time of the year, was 41 degrees on the 26, when the highest was 72 and the lowest 31 degrees.

The total rainfall for the month was 3.3 inches, of which considerably more than a third fell on the 18th; and there were only seven days on which an appreciable amount of rain fell. There were 14 clear, 2 partly clear and 14 cloudy days.

New York State Trout the Best.

Drs. Blaine Talbot and Ben Talbot of Toledo, Ohio, arrived in the city by automobile Sunday evening for a four days' fishing trip to trout streams in this section. The gentlemen tried their luck in the vicinity of Davenport yesterday. The Drs. Talbot were formerly practicing dentists in Hartwick and have many friends there and in Oneonta who will welcome them back to their old haunts and admire their judgment in driving several hundred miles to cast their lines in Otsego and Delaware county streams.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Can Russia Take Money?

Envoy Tchitcherin tells the correspondents at Geneva that the Soviets have nothing to fear from capital; certainly the behavior of the Moscow authorities in the past month, in the past year, has suggested that their fears ran in quite another direction. If over a government set its cap at capital present Russia is that government. It has hardly let a day pass, and has certainly not missed one occasion to hint how easily a moneyed suitor could make his way into its good graces. — [New York Sun.]

Blind Leader of the Blind.

The news is sent out in all seriousness that day Thompson, of Chicago, has set forth upon a pilgrimage to New York to consult with Mayor Hyman in the hope of securing a few pointers upon municipal government. If these two worthies would only induce a few other executives of their own stripe to foregather with them, they might halt the first "American Convention of Blind Leaders of the Blind." — [Philadelphia Record.]

What a Prince Admired.

Prince Mohammed Ali Ibrahim, having spent three months in the United States, has departed for Europe filled with admiration for American girls, they being the most beautiful and charming of their sex in the world in his opinion. In at least one respect this eminent visitor had become thoroughly Americanized. — [New York Herald.]

The Senate's Chance.

No one with any knowledge of the subject will deny the assertion of the secretary of war that an army of 115,000 men and 11,000 officers, the limit fixed by the law for the "safe minimum requirement," General Pershing, General Harbord, and every officer consulted hold the same opinion. The senate now has the opportunity to insist on "the safe minimum requirement," which is 150,000 men and 18,000 officers. — [Philadelphia Inquirer.]

A Coming Man.

Governor Miller, of New York, is off on a vacation, and it is the general expectation of the politicians of this state that he will return he will announce his candidacy to succeed himself. As Judge Miller has become an outstanding figure in the Republican party, it should be of considerable interest to people outside of New York whether he decides to stay in political life. Many times in our national history a governorship has been a stepping stone to a higher office. Therefore, when a man makes a remarkable record in the administration of an important commonwealth he is worth watching. — [Boston Globe.]

Business Gets Better.

Freight cars loaded in the United States during the week ending April 15 totaled 706,713, a decrease of 7,555 from the total for the previous week and an increase of 4,697 over the corresponding week of 1921. Much of the decrease is due to the coal strike, which has cut down the loading of freight cars at the mines. It is interesting to note that the loadings of manufactured products were considerably in excess of the previous week.

Here is another indication of a general improvement in business and industrial conditions. — [Scranton Republican.]

The Standing Army.

A few million dollars may be saved by holding the army down to 115,000. But the saving will defeat its own purpose if it wrecks the new system. It is too soon to look on the army as a peace-plthing—a mere general staff. It has a real military function, which is to link up our military resources and to make them available in an emergency. Training is the great essential, and a skeletonized force is almost valueless for training. The army school does its real work in peace time. Why cripple it, unless you accept the crude and dangerous pacifist theory that such schooling has ceased to be of national advantage? — [New York Tribune.]

A VITAL NEED OF THE CITY

Ample School Accommodations an Immediate Requirement—Chief Sullivan of Compulsory Attendance Division at Albany Urges Early Action.

As residents of Oneonta generally understand, there will be a special election at the Municipal building on May 12, for the purpose of voting on the proposed appropriation of the sum of $40,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a school building in the Sixth ward. The need for such a structure is generally acknowledged, and there is general belief that the needed sum will be voted at the election on Friday of next week. Oneonta is a progressive city. It fully understands the public need in all departments and particularly in the schools. It is not niggard in expenditures. It is willing to give liberally when the need for the giving is evident. It is therefore expected that there will be a large vote cast at the special election, and that the result will show a large majority for the new school building.

In this connection a letter from James D. Sullivan, chief of the Compulsory Attendance division of the State Department of Education, which was lately received by President Saunders of the school board of this city will be of interest:

"I have examined our inspector's report on the condition of your schools on the 18th instant," Mr. Sullivan says, "and, as the primary purpose of his inspection was to ascertain the extent to which the compulsory education law is enforced or otherwise, I advise that report makes it entirely clear that school attendance law is not properly functioning in your city. The reason therefore is exceptional in that parents of a large group of children, who are not in attendance at school full time daily, are not at fault for non-compliance with the law, nor are the children. In fact, both parents and children are apparently desirous of the privilege of complying with the law, for it was pointed out that 136 pupils of compulsory school age are prevented from attending school full time daily and are practically on half time, owing to lack of adequate school accommodations.

"This, permit me to say, is a very serious situation. Oneonta has had the reputation, and justly so, of being one of the most progressive school communities of the State. School building programs were held up during the World War, yet people of Oneonta have not made this date voted an appropriation for the erection of a much needed additional school building, though inspector advises that a special school meeting is to be held on May 12 to vote upon the question of appropriation. He states that your board, superintendent, and other prominent citizens with whom he conferred are heartily in favor of securing a strong affirmative vote for the appropriation, and of doing this as soon as possible. It is to be hoped that the good people of Oneonta will see to it that the proposition is carried by an overwhelming vote.

"Children at the best have only a short school day of about five hours. To put 136 children on part time daily, even if there were not a law requiring full time attendance, will be tolerated by Oneonta just long enough to secure ample school accommodations.

"Very truly yours, James D. Sullivan."

State Scholarship at Cornell.

There will be an examination for a state scholarship at Cornell university held at the court house in Cooperstown on Saturday, June 3. The candidates must be at least 16 years of age and of six months standing in the common schools or academies of the state in the last year before the examination. The examination will be up on English, history, plane geometry, algebra and any two of the following subjects: Greek Latin, French, German, Spanish and advanced mathematics. And as an alternative for the latter, physics or chemistry may be offered.

Will Discontinue Tree Planting.

At a meeting of the directors of the Oneonta Conservation club with the members at the Windsor Hotel last evening it was decided to discontinue tree planting as soon as the balance of the 25,000 trees given to the club by the state are in the ground and to spend the surplus cash on hand in bridge building, water development and the raising of crops for game. Nearly 20,000 seedlings have already been planted by the club on their preserve near Cooperstown Junction.

Mrs. R. L. Garlick Critically Ill.

Mrs. R. L. Garlick, who had been spending the winter at Daytona Beach, Fla., arrived Monday morning at her home on Goodyear lake. Soon after reaching home she was taken seriously ill, and is now under the care of Dr. C. W. Williams, with Miss Anna Every as nurse. The many friends of Mrs. Garlick who it is understood caught a severe cold on her way home, will hope for her early and complete recovery.

Falls Bridge Meeting.

One of the best meetings, full of interest from beginning to end, of those thus far held, was on Friday evening, April 28th, at the Fall Bridge school in the town of New Lisbon. A most excellent program was rendered by the children of the school under the leadership of their teacher, Mrs. O. S. Reynolds. More than thirty people were present. Illustrated songs and pictures were shown by the County Club leader, Miss Master, leader of the Girls' Work, talked regarding Home-Making Projects as based on illustrations shown by pictures and work that the girls are doing. In addition to the regular project slides, Mr. Smith gave a very instructive talk on Poultry Hints and Profits. This was especially well received by the fifty adult people present. Parents and people of the Fall Bridge district are interested in their school. The parents of every child in the school were present. Candy, popcorn, sandwiches, coffee and cake were sold to get school equipment and supplies.

Better and Easier Baking than our ancestors ever dreamed of

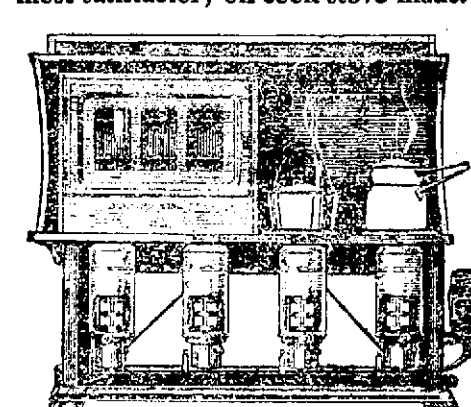

THE New Perfection Oven is scientifically designed. It has the most perfect system of oven ventilation yet devised.

First of all, it bakes evenly from all directions in the oven—top, bottom and all sides. Then, the doors are locked tightly at three points, thus preventing the loss of heat. The oven has glass windows through which the interior is visible at all times. These windows are not easily broken, except by accident, and can be readily and cheaply replaced with ordinary glass.

Cleanliness and economy, lightness, durability, perfect cooking with the least possible care and trouble—the New Perfection assures all of these. Which explains why this cook stove is more popular than any other five makes combined.

Progressive dealers everywhere handle the New Perfection, because it is the most satisfactory oil cook stove made.

CUTS THROAT WITH RAZOR

FRANCIS VELLE IN CRITICAL CONDITION AT HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

Domestic Difficulties Cause Plumber to Try to End Life at Home at 258 Chestnut Street Yesterday, in Presence of Wife — Man Alive Late Last Evening. Although Windpipe, Larynx and Several Veins Are Severed.

With windpipe, larynx and several veins in his neck severed, Francis Velle, 30, lies between life and death at the Fox Memorial hospital as the result of an attempt to end his life by slashing his throat with a razor, at his home at 258 Chestnut street, shortly after noon yesterday in the presence of his wife, with whom he had just been quarrelling. He regained consciousness early in the evening, but at a late hour was reported to be in a very critical condition and but small hope is held out for his recovery. Domestic difficulties are thought to be the cause for the rash act.

Summoned by phone at about 12:45 o'clock, Police Chief Horton, Sergeant O'Neil and Officer Simmons went to the home and found Velle sitting on a couch in the sitting room with blood pouring from a jagged wound in his throat. In a pool of blood on the floor beside the couch was the razor with which the man had slashed himself. Dr. D. H. Mills and the city ambulance were at once summoned and Velle was taken to the hospital where desperate efforts were made to save his life. It was found that he had slashed himself twice, the first cut just grazing the larynx and the second completely severing it as well as the windpipe and several superficial veins. It is also thought that the vocal cords were severed. By a miracle the razor blade just missed the jugular vein. Had that been severed, Velle would undoubtedly have died before the doctor arrived. Dr. Mills united the trachea and larynx, and administered a saline infusion. Even if he rallies from the loss of blood, it is feared that pneumonia will set in, which might easily prove fatal in his weakened condition.

According to the stories of the wife and of neighbors, Velle had had domestic difficulties lately which culminated in his leaving home Sunday and spending that night at the home of Mrs. Velle's mother, Mrs. Terry Trumbull, on South Side. Yesterday noon he returned home and expressed a desire to effect a reconciliation. His wife, however, said that he could live there with their four-year-old son, and that she would seek employment. Whereupon Velle told his mother, Mrs. Ella Velle who had been living with them that he would find a place elsewhere for her and herself. Leaving her at the house, he went back into the house and into the sitting room where his wife was lying on the couch. A few words passed between them which ended in Velle's drawing the razor from his pocket and before his wife could interfere cutting his throat. The razor was one which had been on the kitchen shelf for some time and when Velle put it in his pocket his wife did not know.

Velle is a plumber by trade and has been employed by Louis Baker in his hardware business. He worked yesterday morning helping install a gasoline tank at the West End garage and was apparently in a cheerful mood and his fellow workmen did not suspect that he was troubled about anything. He was an industrious, agreeable man with no bad habits, and his home life was apparently happy. His father committed suicide by saturating his clothes with kerosene and setting fire to them several years ago.

Swimming Pool at Nebawa.
At a meeting of the Park commission held at the Municipal building yesterday, plans for the swimming pool to be constructed at Nebawa park as outlined by City Engineer Gurney were approved. No statement would be given out for publication pending the final completed plans.

CITY IS SLICKING UP

Twelve Wagon Loads of Rubbish Carried Away from First Ward Yesterday. Clean-Up Wagon to Tour Second Ward Today — Campaign So Far a Success.

A record clean-up collection of rubbish departed from the First Ward yesterday. More than a dozen wagon-loads comprised the contribution of the southeastern section of the city to the Clean-Up Week movement for the elimination from sight of all refuse and junk which tends to mar the cleanliness, beautification and healthfulness of the city and its homes and residential property. The team and work several hours overtime last evening in order to complete the rounds of the First Ward before dusk. It was a big day in Clean-Up Week, and only the first day at that.

Second Ward residents have their opportunity this morning and afternoon to make their contribution. Collected free of charge, to the Clean-Up cause. All rubbish placed along the curb in this ward, which means the eastern side of Elm street to the northern city line, the northern side of Main street, to the eastern city line, and all streets between those two points, will be taken care of by the Clean-Up wagon. The driver has agreed to place no limit on his working hours in order to make the complete rounds of the ward.

That the spirit of Clean-Up Week is moving citizens to move their rubbish was clearly proved by the accumulation of rubbish moved to the city dump yesterday. Inasmuch as the first day of the week is generally the least busy, the Clean-Up Week collection began earlier evening than usual. Measures of fulfilling their pledge to citizens in each ward, as enabled by the Boards of Health and Public Works, to cart away all refuse placed along the curb in every street in the city.

Oneonta bids fair to start May with a cleaner city in appearance and fact than in any previous spring. According to the estimate compiled by the City Ward's activities yesterday, that the Second Ward today and the other four wards, in numerical order, will fall in line and perhaps surpass this record during the following four days of this week, is confidently expected by the committee.

A new slogan for Clean-Up Week originated yesterday during a conversation between several citizens. "Pick Up, Slick Up," is the term. It expresses in another manner the slogan nationally used of "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up."

MUST BRING IN THE BACON

Unless Workers Add 125 Members to Athletic Association Today and Tomorrow Entailment in Bridwell's Plans Will Be Made—Money for Salaries Must Be in Sight.

With reports falling 125 members shy of the 750 the Athletic association requires to put on its pay roll the players Manager Al Bridwell has tentatively signed for Oneonta's ball nine, President F. J. Marx wired yesterday to Pitchers Verschler and Snyder asking that they extend the options on their services until tomorrow.

Meanwhile, today and tomorrow, the baseball fans who are out for memberships will have to bring in the "bacon," or the visiting clubs may have a merry time with Oneonta's mountaineers in the diamond contests this summer.

A policy of financial certitude has been adopted by the association's board of directors, which requires that they see where the money is coming from before they approve expenditures for players' salaries which the present membership standing does not justify. Consequently, the necessity of signing up 125 members during the next several days is a fact and not merely talk, the athletic officials declare, and this expressed the hope last evening that all loyal Oneonta fans will get on the wagon before the entailment of Manager Bridwell's plans for a winning ball team go into effect, if a reduced membership makes that action necessary by tomorrow night.

Work on Burial Vault Begins.

The excavation for the public burial vault in Glenwood cemetery has been completed and work on the concrete has been commenced and it is expected that the same will be completed within the next two months. ELKS' CONCERT TONIGHT

Enormous Advance Sale — Patrons Should Go Early To Avoid Disappointment.

From every indication the S. R. O. sign will be prominently displayed at the Oneonta theatre tonight as the ticket demand for the Elks' glee club concert has assumed unheard of proportions. It is a fact that the attendance of each of their concerts has increased over the preceding one and this being so, one wonders where all the people who will want to hear them will be put. It is very appropriate that in musical affairs there should be a grand crescendo and this is true of the Elks' glee club series of concerts in the matter of enthusiasm and attendance. James Keeton, Jr., has arranged a most entertaining program brimming over with numbers that will please, surprise and satisfy the most exacting audience. The photoplay, "At the End of the World" featuring Betty Carson, Milton Sills and Mitchell Lewis. It is a melodramatic film sensation with plenty of action. Two performances will be given, one at 7 o'clock and one at 9 o'clock. Patrons are urged to be in their seats promptly to avoid possible disappointment.

LACE AND EMBROIDERY WEEK

So important has Lace become in the apparel circles that this occasion is a national affair. The finest products of manufacturers are represented in such extensive assortments that you will find it an advantage to definitely plan to choose Laces for all needs from these special displays.

Val Laces	Filet Laces	Irish Edgings
The very useful members of the Lace family are the Valenciennes; strong, durable, yet fine and attractive, fit for a hundred uses and always handy to have in the sewing basket. Women, especially if there are children at home, may profitably buy by the bolt.	Genuine Chinese Filet presents some of Lace Week's most attractive values. There are several unusual patterns and both lace and insertion comes in varying widths. Strip collars, cuffs and vests of Filet almost make themselves and are very smart with a tailor.	Richest looking of the Laces and having recently found new favor with smartly costumed women are the Irish Crochets. To dress up the hand-made, drawn work blouse, to trim very sheer batiste lingerie, a touch on one's frock, is a luxury except when such prices prevail.

"EQUAL RACING RIGHTS" NEW GOAL OF BRITISH WOMEN

COUNTRESS OF WILTON.

By NEA Service.
London, May 1.—Now that British women have the ballot, seats in parliament and any number of magistracies, they're out for equal rights along another line—in the horse-racing field.
They're invading the last ditch held exclusively by mere man.
Women always have been interested in the races as spectators. But now they're appearing as owners of racetracks. They're training their own horses. They're hiring jockeys and putting them in their own colors.

Take the Countess of Wilton, for instance. She has her own extensive stable of racers. Her jockeys are clothed in an attractive mauve with silver braid and silver cap.
Other prominent women racing enthusiasts are Lady James Douglas, Lady Nelson, Lady Nunburnholme, Lady Cunliffe-Owen, Mrs. Hugh Peel and Mrs. Arthur James.

FUNERAL OF LEWIS VROOMAN.

Many Friends and Associates Pay Last Tribute of Respect Monday.
Funeral services for the late Lewis Vrooman, whose death appeared in The Star of Saturday, were held at 2 p. m. yesterday at the family home on Grove street. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends and there were also present large delegations from the order of Odd Fellows and from his associates in the machine shops of the D. & H. company.
The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley, pastor of the First Baptist church, who read appropriate scripture selections and followed with a brief address befitting the life and memory of the departed and full of consolation for the bereaved members of his family. Interment was in the family plot in the Plains cemetery, where the burial service was conducted by Centennial lodge, I. O. F. The bearers were R. R. Mackey, William Sessions, Wright Terry, Claude Fish, Fred Whitcomb and Gideon Borst—all members of the order of Odd Fellows. There were many beautiful flowers, including besides those from friends and neighbors, appropriate pieces from Centennial lodge, P. P. Cooper campment, the Machinists Union, the Riverside Manufacturing company, State Department of Farms and Markets, and the Bible class of the Westminster Presbyterian church at Albany.
Among those in attendance from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Chesebro of Schenectady, Anthony Vrooman and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bayne of Schenectady, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Jones of Merford Hill, Thomas Richard H. Dwyer of Harvard, Ill., and Mrs. Goldie Hunter of Cooperstown.

"The Delaware Edison company," said Mr. Donnellan, "and I was personally pleased to have such a faithful employee working under my direction. He was an inspiration to all men and boys who desired and endeavored to be faithful and loyal."

FARM HOUSE BURNS

Owned by Raymond Hayck on Jackson Hill Near Treadwell.
Treadwell, May 1.—The farm house of Raymond Hayck on Jackson hill two miles from this village on the road leading to North Franklin burned to the ground Sunday morning about 3 o'clock together with a portion of the contents. The members of the family were awakened by the barking of the dog who finally aroused them by pawing at the bedroom door.
Practically all of the furniture on the first floor with the exception of that in the kitchen was removed as was also the canned fruit in the cellar. The furnishings on the second floor and the vegetables in the cellar were destroyed. The older son, Clarence, lost about $70 in money which he had in his room.
The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is said that there had been no fire in the room in which the fire originated since early the previous day. There was a brooder just outside the kitchen door and it has been suggested that the lamp therein may have exploded and thrown the oil over the side of the house.
Mr. Hayck owns a small farm adjoining on which there is a house and it will be occupied until there is some decision about rebuilding. He carried a small insurance, sufficient, however, to only partially cover the loss.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

NO TROUBLE AT THE MINES

May 1 Witnesses No Attempt to Operate Mines—Union Waiting for Full Presentation of Operators Side of Case.

It had been expected that an effort might be made to operate some of the coal mines with non-union help but so far as could be learned last night nothing of the kind was attempted in the anthracite fields, it being reported that everything was quiet in that section.

The fact that negotiations are to be resumed today in New York city may explain why there has been no move made in the coal fields.

The following dispatch from New York city is the latest relative to the situation:

No attempt will be made by representatives of the anthracite mine workers to "force" a presentation of the definite wage program of the hard coal operators at the sub-scale committee conference here during the coming week.

This much was made plain here when the officials of the miners' union explained that they desired a "full and square" discussion of the wage problems affecting the industry from the standpoint of the producers.

Await Discussion.

The operators have asserted that they expect to build up a strong argument on each of their points first and then set forth definitely their attitude toward those points. In this way no statement on the expected wage reduction proposal would be forthcoming until the entire discussion of the operators' views had been completed.

Conferences of the sub-scale committees, which have been carrying on negotiations here since March 15, are to be resumed on Tuesday afternoon, when it is expected that the representatives of the operators will continue their discussion of economic problems.

With the producers making it plain that they expect to take "plenty of time" to make out their case, it is predicted here by the leaders of the men that the proposal on the wage reduction issue will not be formally submitted to the sub-committee much before May 15.

COUNTRY CLUB SELLS LAND

Property Recently Acquired to Permit of Enlarging the Golf Course Sold to Roscoe C. Briggs—No Caterer Yet Engaged.

The plot of about 20 acres of land adjacent to the lands of the Oneonta Country club and extending east along the trolley tracks which the club some time since purchased with the end in view of enlarging the four holes of the golf course on what is known as the upper course or level was last evening by a vote of the directors of the club sold to Roscoe C. Briggs, who purchases the property for investment purposes.

It is not improbable now that the question has been definitely determined that the greens committee will be empowered to consult an expert golf architect to look over the lands owned by the club and make some suggestions as to how best extend the length of the first four holes of the course and to provide for a short mashie shot hole, for which many of the golf players have expressed a desire.

The action of the directors was taken after a full discussion of the club's condition and future and it was the opinion of the majority of the directors that the action taken would be in harmonizing with the wishes of the majority of the supporting members of the club.

No caterer has yet been secured for the summer months and Chairman Leslie Gardner of the House committee is finding the task no easy one. It now appears likely that some person from outside the city will be engaged.

It is expected that the work of putting the present course will be speedily undertaken and that no changes will be made during the present summer or at least not until careful consideration of the possibilities of the present grounds is given.

PLAYLET AT ACADEMY STREET

Pupils of Grammar School at Academy Street Building Present "The Princess and the Sage."

At the regular weekly assembly held Monday morning in the auditorium at the High school building, pupils of the grades presented a playlet entitled "The Princess and the Sage." The audience was delighted with the entertainment and the members of the cast each had their share of the applause. The little actors and actresses had been well drilled, and the performance was without a flaw. Much credit is due Miss Florence Lyon for her work with the members of the cast. The pupils who took part are:

The Princess—Jennie DeNigris.
The King—Richard Cook.
The Queen—Katherine Smith.
The Sage—Robert Harrington.
The Tutor—James Imhoff.

The plot of the play was designed to show how the Princess was turned from worshipping beauty to worshipping goodness through the influence of the Sage.

ROYAL ROMANCE STARTS FAD

England Swept by Craze for Typical Touch in Names From Inns to Babies.

London.—In the wake of the marriage of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles, country-wide craze has developed for naming children and things in honor of the occasion and its principals.

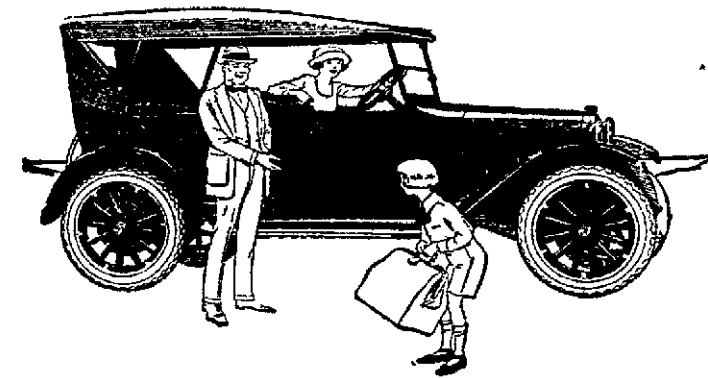

From different parts of the country come reports of such names as "Royal Wedding Hill," and "Princess Mary Shaw." Innumerable Harrys, Marys, Mary Alexandras and so on figure in registrations of the last few days.

Painters and sign writers testify to a mild boom in their art owing to the many changes in signs and names of shops, bungalows, houseboats, houses, etc., in order to give them a "typical" touch.

Inns in all parts of the country are being named "The Princess Mary," or "The Lord Lascelles."
